The Prince of Peace

Isaiah who lived centuries ago prophesied the coming of a Saviour. For a Child will be born for us a Son given to us; authority rests upon his shoulders. And He will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace (9:6). And the angel of the Lord who appeared to the Shepherds at Bethlehem had very exciting news. When they saw the Angel, the shepherds were terrified, but the message of the Angel brought them joy: "Do not be afraid. I bring the Good News that will cause great joy for all the people. Today in the town of David a Saviour has been born to you. He is the Messiah, the Lord..." And the angels were singing "Glory to God in the highest heaven and on earth peace to those on whom His favour rests".

Peace is shalom in Hebrew. The root meaning of shalom is to be whole or sound(nothing-broken-nothing-missing). It speaks of completeness, wholeness, welfare and peace. This, precisely, is the abundant life that the Saviour brought to the world (Jn.10:10).

Pope Francis in his first message for World Day of Peace stressed: "In the heart of every man and woman there is the desire for a full life, including the irrepressible longing for Fraternity which draws us to fellowship with others and enables us to see them not as enemies or rivals, but as brothers and sisters to be accepted and embrace. Fraternity is an essential human quality for we are relational beings. A lively awareness of our relatedness helps us to look upon and treat each person as a true sister or brother; without fraternity it is impossible to build a just society and solid and lasting peace. We should remember that fraternity is generally first learned in the family, thanks above all to the responsible and complementary roles of each of its members, particularly the father and the mother. The family is the wellspring of all fraternity, and as such it is the foundation and the first pathway to peace, since by its vocation, it is meant to spread its love to the world around it".

We human beings are made for joy. Each one of us thirsts for joy. We long to live a life filled with joy and hope. In the heart of every human being there is an intense desire for a full life which will draw us to fellowship with others, and enable us to look at them as our own brothers and sisters. And, indeed, Christ alone has an answer to our desire. This is God's marvelous plan. He chose to make us his special ones "Because you are precious in my sight and honored and I love you, I am giving up people in your place and nations in exchange for your life"(Is.43:4).

Mahatma Gandhi said so truly: "The day the power of love overrules the love of power, the world will know peace." And this gold nugget from Gautama Buddha; "Do not be afraid to take a chance on peace, to teach peace, to live peace. Peace will be the last word of history." The most solemn promise Jesus made before leaving this world: "Peace I leave you, my Peace I give you". The Peace that Jesus offers us is beyond compare which this world cannot give us. The words of St.Paul in Colossians are very inspiring: "And let the Peace of Christ rule in your hearts to which, indeed, you were called in one body".

Fr. Agnel – A Model Of The Eucharistic Attitude

(Homily At The Mass On The Death Anniversary of Fr. Agnel -20th Nov, 2014)

-Bishop John Rodrigues

We have just heard the narration of institution of the Eucharist from Luke's Gospel. From that time right down the ages, as the Eucharist has been celebrated the Church has experienced the limitless love of God – his desire to give and love and share ceaselessly. He is with us always. Today as we honour Fr Agnel we look to him as a model, who sought to live the meaning of the Eucharist and embody a Eucharistic attitude. We shall reflect on two characteristics of his Eucharistic devotion.

Firstly, Fr Agnel had great faith in the real presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. We are told that as a priest he would spend hours before the Blessed Sacrament. When he preached about the Eucharistic Lord his eyes radiated a heavenly glow. Just before breathing his last it was his earnest desire to be present for Benediction and be blessed by the Eucharistic Lord.

The First Reading from the Book of Deuteronomy tells us of the Bread of Presence (25:30). It was a reminder that God was present with them on their journey. In Jesus we encounter God in our midst. At the Last Supper when Jesus shared bread and wine with his disciples he was giving them not just a token reminder of himself but his real flesh and blood. This meant he was giving them his whole self as we see from references in the Old Testament that flesh meant the human person and blood signified life. Hence, he was giving his entire self, his whole person. We believe that Jesus is really, truly and substantially present in the Eucharist. We encounter the person of Jesus in the Eucharist. He is there for us and his presence becomes meaningful for us when we open ourselves, when we converse with him, when we listen to him.

This is what Fr Agnel sought to do when he sat before the Blessed Sacrament. May we follow his example and grow in our faith that Jesus is really and personally present for us, and may we grow in our relationship with him.

A second characteristic of a Eucharistic attitude was described for us in the second reading from the Acts of the Apostles. We heard how the Christians gathered together and celebrated the Eucharistic meal “with glad and generous hearts.” Their participation in the breaking of the bread led to generosity. In Fr Agnel's life too his Eucharistic joy was manifested in his desire to be generous and share with all whatever he had. He chose to live a life of austerity managing with the minimum. It was a sign of his radical following of the Gospel, of being completely detached from material things and relying totally on God. “It is not clothing that honours a man but virtue” are his words to a friend. He trusted in God's providence and generosity. The riches that he received he shared with others. As the Lord poured his love into his heart it overflowed to others. This is something he learnt from his pious mother. If he could not help someone who was materially in need, he would borrow from others to help those in need particularly the widows and orphans.

In the Eucharist we experience the goodness of the Lord to us. He gives himself totally to us. We are called to be generous and share with others what we receive. An illustration expresses this very well. In the Holy Land there are two great lakes – so big that they are called

Christmas without Christ?

- Fr.F. Diniz

Christmas is a universal religious festival. 25th December 2014 is now at hand. For the last couple of Sundays we have heard the call of St. John the Baptist to “prepare the way of the Lord and make His path straight”. It is a call for preparation for the celebration of the Birthday of Christ. How important is this celebration for us? Do we really take the call of St. John the Baptist seriously? For some, perhaps a mundane celebration is more important than that done in the true spirit of Christmas.

What is the main purpose of a Christmas Celebration? Let us remember that celebration of any mystery of Christ is meant to project the glory of Christ as the only Son of God. Even the celebration of the death of Christ is a prelude to his glorious Resurrection. The fact is that the Christian Community took a long time to understand that the birth of Christ was also a manifestation of His glory as the Son of God.

It was only at the beginning of the 5th century A.D. that Christmas was universally accepted as a celebration of the manifestation of the glory of Christ as the Son of God, just as his Resurrection was. 25th December was also accepted as the date of the Birth of Jesus Christ. This was mostly due to the intervention of St. John Chrysostom who helped extend this custom to Europe, and thus, it became a common custom in most of the Eastern and Western Churches which prevails to this day.

It is interesting to know how this awareness of the manifestation of the glory of Christ on his birthday dawned on the Christian communities all over the world. It started with the celebration of Epiphany of the Lord on the 6th January. Guided by a star the Wise Men from a far Eastern country, came to Bethlehem to worship the newly born King of the Jews, and though they found him as a child of poor parents “they fell down and worshipped him”. This was taken by many Churches as a clear manifestation of the glory of Christ as the Son of God.

Then some of the Churches realized that the apparition of the Angel to the shepherds on the very night of the Nativity of Christ was also a manifestation of the glory of Christ and started celebrating the Birthday of Christ on 6th January together with Epiphany. Finally, the two feasts were separated and Christmas was fixed definitively on 25th December and Epiphany continued on the 6th January. The celebration of Christmas was mainly a spiritual affair like any other feast of the Church.

It was in the first half of the 13th century A.D. that Christmas became a popular feast even more popular than Easter due to the influence of St. Francis of Assisi. Popular expression of joy with the enactment of the scenes of Nativity and dramatics, because of which devotion got freely mixed up with fun.

There is now a trend to ignore the salutary messages of Christmas such as “Glory to God in the highest and peace to His people on earth”. “A Saviour has been born for you who is Christ the Lord”. “We have seen his star in the East and have come to worship him”. The so-called people with a modern trend want to limit the celebration only to fun and frolic, often not of the innocent type. Let Christmas celebration be used as a prelude to the coming of the “Great One” as Rabindranath Tagore in one of his poems eloquently described:

“The Great One comes sending waves of joy in all directions

The grasses come alive, the birds sing sweeter, For the romance of His coming

Is so vibrant, so pervading, so stupendous....”

So we pray - Let Christmas be a true manifestation of the love glory of God.

Joy To The World

-Leon Bent

It is in silence that we begin to go deeper and deeper into that inner storehouse of joy. It is in silence that we go to the place where sound originates. Silence is stronger than words. Silence is a powerful environment for transformation.

Jesus was born on a "Silent Night, Holy Night!" Silence and holiness poured out like a fountain which cradled the infant Jesus. The four lyrics are a form of confession of faith, prophecy and praise an expression of joy and glory. The air is "hallelujah."

"Glory to God in the highest and peace to men of goodwill." This joyful news was an invitation for the lowly Shepherds, as they listened in the stillness of the night. Abraham Heshel says, "No words more magnificent have ever been uttered." These songs are charged with Spirit-power and contain the joyful celebration of belief in the event of salvation, and contain the Christmas Liturgy in embryonic form.

Then follows "The Magnificat," (Lk. 1:46-55) Mary's bitter-sweet canticle! Mary is "full of grace" and from this truth spring joy and exultation. "My spirit rejoices..." The joy of divine work, a joy of pure and gratuitous praise. Her song is full of fire, inspired by the Spirit. It is the Virgin's hymn of perfect purity. The latter half of the "The Magnificat" expresses in sharp forthrightness, Mary was so filled with God that, it led to the greatest rapture and incredible abandonment.

Thirdly, at Jesus' Presentation in the Temple (2:29-32), Simeon, moved by the Holy Spirit expressed delightfully that, Christ would be "a Light for the Gentiles and glory to his People, Israel."

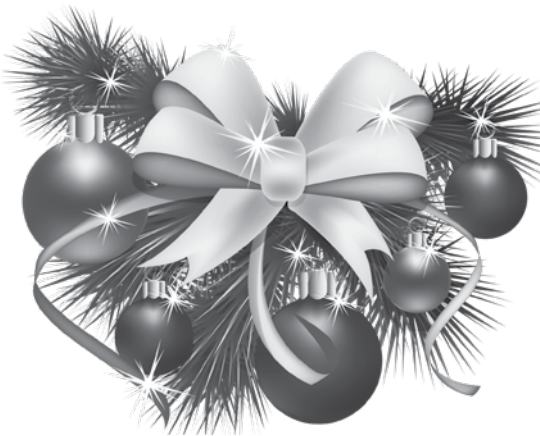

The fourth song, the canticle of Zechariah (Lk.67-79), is also known as "Benedictus." Zechariah filled with the Spirit, sang a thanksgiving chant to God because He had been faithful to His promises (Jn.3:16), to send His Son to redeem man from the snares of sin and death.

To experience Jesus we must take the "Child" into our arms, and hold him close to our hearts. Christmas is not just the festivity of the joy of humans. It is also the exuberance of God's scintillating joy.

Christmas: An Old Message with New Insights

-Fr. Jesuino Almeida

Christmas is around once again. We read the same Bible passages again, but, since we live every year in a new context, these passages lead us to new insights. The Word was made flesh in the poorest conditions. We can link these words with the reflexions of Swami Agnivesh, the well known activist and campaigner for the rights of the poor and disadvantaged, who said: "We find Jesus of Nazareth, the most relevant in the present-day situation. He never took up arms against his enemies. His response was love. That should inspire us. Through love we can win this war".

Augustine Kenjamala looks at the Jesus event from another angle: "The social impact of the Gospel of Jesus, as in the case of Ram Mohan Roy and the members of Brahma Samaj, Prarthna Samaj and other Samajes across the length and breadth of the country, is still attractive and meaningful. For Swami Vivekananda Jesus was the "Mukhta," and for M.K Gandhi he was the "Supreme Satyagrahi" and model of "Ahimsa". Gandhiji started many of his meetings with the readings from the Gospel, Koran and Gita. Indian philosopher S.Radhakrishnan, the exponent of Neo - Hinduism, extolled Jesus as one who achieved mystical union with God, "I and the Father are one". Pandita Ramabai discovered in him a great liberator of women.

Missionaries are exhorted to imitate the servant model of Jesus. For example, Blessed Mother Teresa of Kolkata, whose birth centenary was celebrated all over the world by people of all religions or no religion, is the most loved, appreciated and esteemed missionary of the 20th century. When she started her service to the poorest of the poor in the streets of Kolkata and was criticized for encouraging conversion to her faith, her answer was: "I do convert. I convert you to be a better Hindu, a better Muslim, a better Protestant and a better Sikh".

May these powerful leaders of other faiths and our own, motivate us to go still deeper into the message of Bethlehem?

A Christmas of Light, Joy And Hope

-Fr.Nazareth Fernandes

Come the Season of Advent, and Christmas celebrations have already begun. This is the spirit of Christmas in the western world, where roads and streets, trees and fountains are grandiosely lighted and decorated, welcoming the very Season of Advent itself. To our minds, in the Orient, inebriated as we are with the spiritual ethos of penance during the Advent Season as a gesture of genuine preparation for Christmas, the western spirit sounds ridiculous. But the world over, whether in season or out of season, the month of December uplifts our joyful spirits, because Christmas is near.

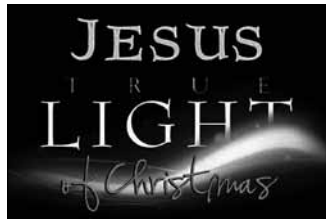

What has the birth of Christ to offer humanity? Pope Francis in one of his reference to global affluent countries has this to say: "The promise was that when the glass was full, it would overflow, benefitting the poor. But what happens instead is that when the glass is full, it magically gets bigger... nothing ever comes out for the poor".

It was in such a context that Jesus came into our world to free us from selfishness and indifference and make us all sons and daughters of his Father. St. Paul in his letter to the Galatians 4:4,5 clearly defines the mission of Jesus: "When the fullness of time was come, God sent his Son made of a woman, made under the law; that he might redeem them who were under the law; that we might receive adoption as sons". Thus the Son of God came to abolish the Old Covenant, and to establish a new one, - a Covenant of love, not of law.

If Christmas has any meaning for humanity it is one of Joy and Hope which can never deceive. Joy brings with it hope. For Jesus came down to give us hope - hope of eternal bliss with the Father. For Jesus took over our humanity and enlightened it with the reality of hope. Pope Francis reflecting on the present human condition has this to say: "Sometimes in our lives, tears are lenses we need to see Jesus with" - to see Jesus the hope of humanity!

Each one of us can make this Christmas meaningful by rejoicing in the birth of Jesus and sharing this joy and hope with the poor and the underprivileged through our acts of mercy, charity and a kind and gentle word to everyone, thus brightening up their lives. God bless us all with this grace and vision this Christmas.

Ven.Fr.Agnelo's 87th Death Anniversary celebrated at Pilar

Junk food has empowered us in all aspects of life, be it social or spiritual life. Focusing on the life of Fr.Agnelo, we need to nourish ourselves with spiritual food served through the Word of God and the Holy Eucharist. This was stressed by Rev. Bishop Serrao urged the faithful to seek inner freedom as reflected in the life of Ven.Fr. Agnelo. "Let us pray that we may be detached from all things and persons, so that we are free for God," he concluded.

Present on the occasion was the Superior General of the Society of Pilar, Fr Francis Carvalho, Vice-Postulator for the cause of the beatification of Ven. Fr. Agnelo, Fr.Hillary Fernandes and other clergy. Thousands of devotees flooded the Pilar hillock.

Remembering the First Catholic Mundari Tribal Converts

-Nirmala Carvalho

A pilgrimage was held to celebrate “the proclamation of the Gospel, the joy of faith and the joy of serving Christ,” recalling the first converts of the Diocese of Jamshedpur (Jharkhand). It was in this spirit that Fr. Lino Fernandes SFX, Pastor of Blessed Mother Teresa of Siadih, led his Mundari tribal communities to the Shrine of Our Lady of Khuntpani Shrine, Chaibasa, to celebrate the Annual Feast of Khuntpani Mata.

The celebration takes its name from the village of the same name. Here, on 8 November 1873, six tribal families were baptized, as the first Catholics in the area. “These people - said Fr. Fernandes to Asia News - came from the poorest and most marginalized sections of society. In total freedom and absolute joy they asked to enter the Church, embracing the Catholic faith.”

“Our parish - he explains - has been preparing for a long time, organizing prayer services and reciting the rosary together, including the Sacrament of Penance. As a Missionary Pilar Father, this pilgrimage to Khuntpani Mata is an opportune time to, announce the Good News, to share with my Tribal People the Joy of the Gospel. It is Mary who draws all people to her, and through her and to her Son Jesus. She is the great intercessor and has great compassion for each of us”.

seas – the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. The Sea of Galilee has fish in its waters, plants and trees along its shores; there is life all around. The Dead Sea, as the name indicates, does not support life. There is no fish in its waters, the surroundings are barren. Both have the same source, the river Jordan. But the difference is that the Sea of Galilee has an outlet. All the water that it receives it pours out into the plains making the land fertile and the surroundings green. The Dead Sea on the other hand does not have an outlet. The water that it receives remains there and increases in salinity and so does not support life. The message is clear – generosity and sharing promotes growth and progress, selfishness leads to stagnation.

Let us, at this Mass, ask the Lord to strengthen our faith in his abiding presence in the Eucharist and may our celebration lead us to acts of generosity. May we take Fr Agnel as our model and spend time before the Blessed Sacrament and share what we have with others. May the celebrations of the Golden Jubilee of the Eucharistic Congress this year help us to appreciate the wonderful gift of the Eucharist that God has given us.

Hope to be a CBI Official

My name is Vijay Rashure. I was born on September 1st in 1995 in Karnataka. When our family shifted to Goa I was only 4 months old. My father was a Goan, and my mother was from Karnataka.

We lived in Margao. In our family most of them wanted a boy child and I was the first boy child. When I was 5 years old my mother send me to school. In our village most of the children uneducated and they left on the streets. Some had their parents but they were not taking care of them and the children started cheating and robbing. My mother thought that if her child follows them I would also not study after school I was destined to become like those children. When my mother saw me with them one day she decided to admit me in the Ashram. When I came to this Ashram I thought this to be a military Ashram, because I had seen groups of security at the gate and I told my mother I am going back home because I scared. My mother told me that this Ashram is only for small children. Then I was 7 years old. Mother Celia took care of me. I learned many things and I had improved my knowledge. I had also improved my behaviour, and I respect the people in my village and people respect me and my family. When I become big I want to earn good money. Even if my income is small I will give half of my income to this Ashram, and I pray to God for our benefactors, Pilar Fathers, Sr. Jennifer and all the staff members that they have good health and people respect them. My aim is to become CBI official.

I am so Happy in the Balgram

I am Velany. I am studying in 7th Standard in Fr. Agnel Multipurpose High School in Verna. I am 12 years old and residing in Arlem, Raia. I have two older brothers. My father is an alcoholic and has separated from the family 5 years ago. My mother went abroad work, leaving me and my 2 brothers with her mother who has heart problems. She was unable to care for us. Therefore my grandmother put me in Fr. Agnel Boarding in Verna, when I was in 5th Standard so that I could concentrate on studying and that made me really happy. My cottage Mother Philomena, helped me a lot with my studies and to find new friends here. I like this Balgram and I am happy to stay here but I don't like when other children tease me. My cottage mother is Philomena. She treats me like her own child. She always showed me the right path and also how to speak English. My hobby is to collect pictures of heroines. My talent is sharing my things with the other children. I am good at dancing, so my ambition is to become a dancer.

Blessed Are The Merciful

Shakespeare's heroine Portia, in her plea impassion'd,

Says of mercy that in heavenly realms is fashioned,

"It blesses him that gives, and him that takes:"

For mercy, like compassion is what makes

It seem like "the gentle rain from heaven"

To needy souls who hope

That mercy is with justice entwined.

Jesus Himself taught in the Sermon on the Mount,

"Blessed are the merciful,

For they shall obtain mercy."

Our blessings are endless, without count,

If our compassion too is bountiful;

For God always with kindly eyes sees

Every little act, even of small mercies;

That every man be merciful,

Whether or not he has pelf,

'Cause 'tis an "attribute of God Himself,"

Who looked on the Crucifixion of His Son -

"The ultimate act of mercy"

That paid the price for everyone.
